

RECLAIMED PLANK BROOKLINE MIX

Wide Plank Flooring

The Bingham Lumber Brookline Mix is a custom blend of our most popular antique softwoods. Chosen for their color, knot structure, complimenting grain variation and antique characteristics, this particular floor will make a great addition to any home. The color ranges from a creamy white to a light golden brown and will vary from board to board. Each board may exhibit antique characteristics from its previous use, such as nail holes, checking and patina from natural weathering due to centuries of prior use.

Being that our Brookline Mix is a custom softwood mixture of species, this material is sourced from many different parts of antique structures. Some material comes from siding, whereas others may come from antique timbers or attic flooring. Much of our custom mix is sourced from the Northeastern part of the U.S. where softwoods were used in many of the structures centuries ago.
